HISTORY & ART THEORY

Art and Money

The art world is a complex interaction of artists, dealers, collectors, auction houses, art fairs, public and private museums and more. This course considers the art “market” and looks at how what we see, what we buy and what we pay for art is manipulated by the business behind the image.

Roy Forward $230

Close Encounters With 12 Paintings: Part Two

The first fresh glimpse of a painting can leave a powerful impression but the longer we spend with it, the more it reveals itself. This course, Part 2 in our popular series, offers the chance to spend 60 minutes examining and debating each of a dozen major and intriguing paintings in the National Gallery of Australia.

Roy Forward $230

Mon 17 Aug-21 Sep (2.00pm–4.00pm)

Manet and Cezanne

This short course looks at Édouard Manet and Paul Cezanne – widely considered to be the “fathers” of modern art. Manet’s twin interests in Old Masters and contemporary Realism gave him the crucial foundation for his revolutionary approach to art; Cezanne is the most powerful and essential link between Impressionism and abstraction.

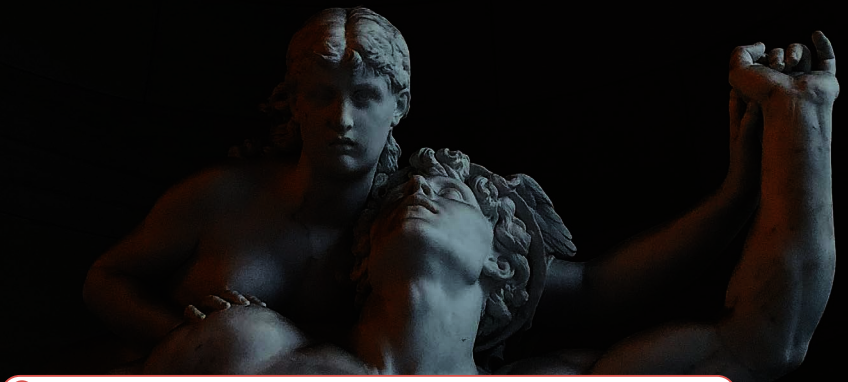

This is the first of a series of Saturday art mornings. Please see our website for further classes.
